PROVISIONS OF THE TREATY REGARDING EACH.

A Condensed Account Showing the Stipulations of Each Article—New York Press Comments on the Treaty Do not Agree, Some Claiming We Are Worsted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. —UST now the fisheries treaties is a subject of interest to all. The treaty, with the president's letter of transmittal to the senate, has been made public. The president recommended its approval as a satisfactory, practical and honorable adjustment of the dispute.

Articles 1 and 2 of the treaty detail the inception and formation of the fishery commission. Articles 3, 4, 5 and 6 provide for the measurement of the delimitation of the Canadian waters as arranged for in the convention of 1818.

Article 7 says that any disagreement of the commissioners shall be referred to an umpire selected by the secretary of state and the British minister at Washington.

Article 8 provides that each nation shall pay its own commissioners and officers.

Article 9 declares that nothing in the treaty shall affect the free navigation of the Strait of Canso by the United States fishing vessels.

Article 10 secures to American fishing vessels the right to enter Canadian ports for sheltering or repairs, without reporting or clearing, unless detained over twenty-four hours.

Article 11 stipulates that United States fishing vessels may enter Canadian ports under stress of weather or other casualty, unload and reload and sell all fish on board when necessary as incidental for repairs, and may replenish outfits, provisions and supplies when damaged or lost by disaster.

Article 12 provides that fishing vessels of Canada shall have on the Atlantic coast of the United States all the privileges reserved and secured by the treaty to United States fishing vessels in Canadian waters.

Article 13 and 14 prescribe penalties for violation of the treaty and the manner of their enforcement.

Article 15 provides that upon removal of duties from fish oil, whale oil, seal oil and fish of all kinds, the privilege of entering the ports, bays and harbors of the aforesaid coasts of Canada and Newfoundland, shall be accorded to United States fishing vessels by annual licenses, free of charge, for the following purposes, namely: First, the purchase of provisions, bait, ice, seines, lines, and all other supplies and outfits; second, transshipment of catch, for transports, by any means of conveyance; third, shipping of crews. Supplies shall not be obtained by barter, but bait may be so obtained.

MAP OF THE FISHING TERRITORY.
To promote good feeling and to provide against friction and irritation the British commissioners are willing to make the following temporary arrangement pending the ratification of the treaty:

First, For a period not exceeding two years from the present date the privilege of entering the bays and harbors of the Atlantic coast of Canada and Newfoundland shall be granted to the United States fishing vessels by an annual license fee of $1.50 per ton for the following purposes: The purchase of bait, ice, seines, lines and other supplies and outfits; transshipment of catch and shipping of crews.

Second, If during the continuance of this arrangement the United States should remove the duties on fish, fish oil, whale and seal oil, (and their coverings, packages, etc.) the licenses shall be issued free of charge.

Third, United States fishing vessels entering the bays and harbors of the Atlantic coasts of Canada and Newfoundland for any of the four purposes mentioned in Article 1 of the convention of October 20, 1818, and not remaining therein more than twenty-four hours, shall not be required to enter or clear at the custom house, providing that they do not communicate with the shore.

Fourth, Forfeiture to be exacted only for the offenses of fishing or preparing to fish in territorial waters.

New York Press Comments.
NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Herald says of the fisheries treaty: It seems to us to remedy all the just grievances of our fishermen. The Times says: We obtain under the treaty greater advantages than have ever been accorded so freely before. We cannot hope to obtain better terms by mutual agreement.

The Tribune says: It is a feeble and incoherent compromise. Secretary Bayard has failed to vindicate the honor of the nation. Nearly all Canada's outrages can be repeated under this treaty with impunity. Canada with her customs regulations deliberately harassed our fishermen to force us to remove the duty from fish. This was their objective point and will be again. The provision for tonnage dues give Canada new facilities for operating against our fishermen. The treaty will be unpopular in Canada as in New England. It does not offer a basis for permanent settlement. It should be rejected by a patriotic senate.

The Press says: The tonnage tax would tax American fishermen out of existence. The surrender of the right to buy bait is a serious detriment to New England fishing interests. This right was unquestionably guaranteed by the treaty of 1818. The administration has been overreached.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

They "Do" the City of Savannah in Less Than Two Hours.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 23.—President Cleveland and party arrived in Savannah at 8:30 o'clock this morning. They were met at the depot by Mayor Rufus E. Lester and a reception committee composed of prominent citizens. The president said he could not spend more than an hour in Savannah, and after shaking hands with about twenty city officers and leading citizens, the members of his party were conducted to carriages for a drive around the city.

Mayor Lester and Capt. Robert Tallant, chairman of the reception committee, occupied seats in the carriage with the president and Mrs. Cleveland. The second carriage was occupied by Secretary and Mrs. Whitney, accompanied by Gen. Alexander and Fleming DuBignan, and the third by Col. and Mrs. Lamont, Col. Estill and Judge Adams.

The Georgia hussars and Chatham artillery were drawn up in front of the depot. Five thousand people cheered as the party drove off. The artillery, which fired a salute when the train rolled in, did not act as an escort, but the cavalry performed that duty. The day was misty, but the president rode most of the time with uncovered head. The streets were lined with people. The carriages started off at a rapid pace and were driven as quickly as possible through the principal streets.

Only one stop was made—at Relfair Academy of Arts and Science. A few minutes were spent looking at pictures and the party then returned to their carriages. The route followed was circuitous and afforded the crowd an opportunity of cheering the president many times as he passed. The drive was eight miles long and including the stops was made in fifty minutes. The president's carriage was drawn by four white horses. The coach escort was kept at a gallop. Houses along the route were very elaborately decorated.

The president literally "did" Savannah. In an hour and fifty-four minutes after he arrived he was on board the Newport again and rolling out of the depot en route to Jacksonville.

After the president left here there was a parade of military and civic bodies, and a statue to Sergeant William Jasper was unveiled. Governor Gordon delivered the oration. The festival will be continued to-morrow and on Friday.

HOOSIER VETERANS.

A Meeting at Indianapolis to Urge Their Claims for a Pension Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 23.—Between three and four hundred old soldiers attended the annual meeting of the Indiana Universal Pension association yesterday the main purpose of which is to secure the passage of a bill granting a pension of not less than $8 a month to every honorably discharged Union soldier, and more to those who were disabled in the service. A plan was formulated for organizing the various counties in the state, and for raising means to push forward the work.

A National committee was called for about the middle of May. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the bills introduced by Congressman Hovey. One provides for the general pensions and the other for the payment to every honorably discharged Union soldier 40 per cent. of the total amount he received in the service, on account of the depreciation of the currency. A long letter outlining his plans from Gen. Hovey was read. It was determined to present resolutions to the state convention of each party asking endorsement of the association's request. For this purpose a committee of fifteen was appointed, with one member from each congressional district. Officers were elected for next year as follows: President, Gilbert R. Stormont, of Princeton; secretary, C. A. Powers, of Terre Haute; treasurer, M. C. Rankin, of Terre Haute.

Ohio Legislature.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—The house had a warm time this morning when Hartpence's Bridgetown road bill came up for final action.

A resolution was offered in the house to appoint a state biennial reception commission, consisting of three senators, five representatives, the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house to spend $10,000 in entertaining distinguished visitors to the Columbus centennial.

A resolution was also presented to have the canals surveyed by the board of public works.

Hyssell's bill conferring additional power on the mine inspector was passed.

The house adjourned at the end of the morning's session until Thursday morning.

The senate did nothing but discuss bills this morning.

The Confidential Clerk Chestnut.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—For the last three years Harry L. Hocker has been the confidential clerk and salesman for Colvin Conard, the extensive lumber merchant at 1144 Beach street. Last Thursday Mr. Conard discovered that Hocker had appropriated money belonging to him, and that he had overdrawn Mr. Conard's account in the Corn Exchange bank. It was reported yesterday that Hocker had embezzled several thousand dollars of his employer's money, and a reporter went to see Mr. Conard, who said it was true that Hocker had appropriated money belonging to him. Hocker's friends are endeavoring to effect an amicable settlement, and he may escape criminal prosecution.

NEW ALBANY, Feb. 23.—The champion horse thief of Indiana is now being unearthed in this city. Charles Martin is his name, and he hails from Liberty, Ind. He is not only an expert thief but a shrewd man, and his high ambition will make it an interesting trial when it is brought to court. He has followed this business for years, and has stolen and shipped horses by the carload, but it is now thought he has come to the end of his string, and that the prosecution to follow will be very brief and to the point, so far as he is concerned.

KILLARNEY NEWS AGENTS.

SUMMONSES ISSUED FOR THEM WITHDRAWN.

Colonel King-Harman Gives an Explanation for It—The Government Alarmed at Recent Indications of Popular Disapproval—Other European News Notes.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The dispatch from Killarney printed yesterday, which said that the summonses that had been issued for news agents who were charged with selling papers containing reports of the suppressed branches of the National league had been withdrawn from the Kerry courts, brought forth the question last night in the house of commons which Col. King-Harman answered by denying that the government had decided to push no more prosecutions of this kind.

Although the government have had sufficient time and experience to learn the difference between making statements like this on the floor of the house of commons, and putting them into execution in Ireland, they continue to announce their intentions with regard to Ireland in the most arrogant manner. Some time has elapsed since Mr. Secretary Balfour calmly informed parliament that the 1,800 branches of the National league were to be summarily disposed of, but in the face of this assertion made in England and backed in Ireland by the armed forces of coercion, numerous branches of the obnoxious league flourish, and do business at the old stand.

The plan of campaign was to have active war made against it, but only recently the plan of campaign has accomplished two substantial victories. The newspapers which printed reports of the suppressed league meetings were to be dealt severely with, and all mention of the league was to be a thing of the past. The papers, however, have gone on recording league meetings, and now in Kerry all hindrance to their doing so has been removed. The fact is the government have discovered that their task was a tremendous one, and one in which it was necessary to encounter the pluck and energy of a people determined upon having their liberty.

It has been noticed that lately there has been determination in Irish persecution, and this is accounted for two reasons, one, that the task of sitting on Ireland is too great a one, and the other, which has received some credence in political circles, that the government are relaxing some of their severity, because they are alarmed at the recent indications of popular disapproval of that policy as shown by the elections, and, because they, in the event of being obliged to go before the country for support, fear the result of such a step, if the present condition of things in Ireland is continued.

Mitchell Wants Only Fair Play.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Sporting Life prints a letter from Charley Mitchell, denying the truth of certain statements alleged to have been made by John L. Sullivan, in a letter recently published in America. He has not, he says, offered $1,000 to a party to hire a gang of roughs to prevent Sullivan winning the present fight, nor has he placed any stumbling block in the way of the contest being fairly decided. The gentlemen who will accompany Mitchell to the trying place are well known, he says, and he is ready to name them. If Sullivan objects to anyone of the ten names, Mitchell is willing to scratch it from his list. He expects Sullivan to concede him a similar privilege. He (Mitchell) desires to extend and receive fair play.

The statement attributed to Sullivan that Mitchell does not intend meeting him is characterized as too mean to noticed let alone believe. His sole aim is to meet Sullivan, and he will try to prove to the world that Sullivan is not the terror his scribbling friends would make him out to be. According to them Sullivan would gain no glory by defeating Mitchell, and if the fight goes the other way the American will be laughed at. Mitchell assures his backers that he will be there, and will not place anything in the way of the fight being concluded.

The Crown Prince.

SAN REMO, Feb. 23.—The physicians in attendance on the crown prince affirm the reports that the patient's improved condition is maintained, and state that the present symptoms are encouraging. It is unofficially reported that the strength of the prince does not continue to grow, although the dissolving of the swelling on the right larynx has afforded him some relief.

Another Dynamiter.

DUBLIN, Feb. 23.—The police have arrested a man at Coleraine, County Londonderry, who had a quantity of dynamite on his person. The prisoner declares that he uses the explosive for quarrying purposes, but the officials believe that they have made an important arrest.

The Vacant Seat.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says it was given out on authority last night that Mr. William Steinway, the piano manufacturer, of New York city, is to be elected by the committee to fill the late Herbert O. Thompson's place on the Democratic National committee. The Tammany men will support Mr. Steinway. Another rumor is to the effect that Mr. Scott, of Pennsylvania, is to succeed Mr. Barnum as chairman, or at least will have practical charge of the campaign.

The Press Will Get Full Accounts.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—It was stated to-day by the officials of the Western Union Telegraph company that every possible facility will be given the press of the country, no matter where the Democratic National convention may be held; but if San Francisco should be selected the company will at once put up two additional copper wires between Chicago and San Francisco, which with those already in use to the Pacific coast will accommodate all the business that may be offered.

DEADLY DYNAMITE.

While Blasting Rock at Duluth Several Men are Killed and Injured.

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 23.—The terrific shock which was felt at 7:15 this morning was caused by an explosion of dynamite in a rock cut on Fourth street, by a drill hole, charged and fused, and which was supposed to have been blasted on Saturday. There still remained several unexploded cartridges, however, and when the workmen resumed this morning the men had struck but a few blows on their drills, when the dynamite exploded with awful force, tearing away great boulders of solid granite to a depth of twelve feet, hurling huge rocks as from a catapult, burying the men in the cut beneath them, or throwing them with terrible force against jagged rock, bruising, mangling and cutting them.

About thirty men were in the cut, nine are seriously injured and several fatally. Andrew Dehl died upon his arrival at the hospital, and the others can scarcely survive.

The blame is attached to the foreman of the work whom it is claimed knew the mine was not exploded and knowing this ordered the men to resume work. The coroner's investigation will develop the facts in the matter.

Nine of the sufferers were immediately taken to St. Luke's hospital where their wounds were dressed. The surgical room presented an awful sight and the groans of the injured men were pitiful. Everything which surgical skill can provide is being brought into requisition for their comfort. It is a fortunate coincidence that the men seriously injured are single.

The scene of the accident is at the great rock cut on Fourth street, which is being done by M. H. Fitzpatrick, contractor. No blame attaches to him, as he has always observed the greatest care in handling explosives.

The names of those most seriously injured are:

Andrew Dehl, aged twenty-two, killed.

Jacob Nels, aged twenty-five, badly cut about the head.

Aaron Erickson, aged thirty-three, terribly mangled, and will doubtless die.

Fred Ecklund, aged twenty-five, cut in face and back.

Andrew Ecklund, aged twenty-four, leg broken, hand mangled, head hurt.

Eric Matson, aged twenty-three, both legs broken, breast bones broken, back and head badly cut.

A. Ordling, aged thirty-two, head and legs badly injured.

L. Anderson, aged twenty-seven, head and back injured.

The injuries of the others were less serious, and they are being taken care of in their homes. It is probable at least four fatalities will result from the accident.

AMERICANS IN CUBA.

They are Shamefully Treated by the Police of Havana.

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 23.—Francisco Prieto, a naturalized American citizen residing in Havana, while going from his residence to purchase groceries, was met by a captain of the police, accompanied by two guards, who stopped him in the middle of the street and demanded to know his business. He informed them, whereupon they began beating him unmercifully with their swords, inflicting some painful wounds.

Prieto's cries for mercy could be heard for blocks. Many persons witnessed the punishment. Prieto has the best reputation, and is respected by all who know him. Several of his friends immediately notified the United States consul general, but he said he could do nothing whatever in the matter. The fact is that the police authorities of Havana, under the orders of Capt. Gen. Marine, are openly outraging honest citizens all over the island of Cuba.

It is rumored in Havana, and publicly spoken on the streets, that Capt. Gen. Marine, in order to defend himself of the just attacks of the American press throughout the country, has purchased an interest in a Spanish paper of New York city, which will henceforth defend Gen. Marine. La Luchaux, of Havana, says Marine is about to resign. Many contradictory rumors of all sorts concerning the government plans are in circulation. Meetings of citizens are held secretly, and trouble is feared if Marine persists in high-handed measures.

Ike Hill Testifies.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Ike Hill was on the witness stand in the tally sheet trial this morning. He contradicted in the most positive manner the statement of Squire Martin that he had been offered a bribe of $3,000 by Hill. Hill was asked during a lull in the examination whether he had any idea what place would be selected by the Democratic National committee for the holding of the National convention. He is near the throne and knows. In reply he said: "The choice lies between St. Louis and Chicago. No other cities have any show. The president favors St. Louis."

A Grievous Mistake.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 23.—Dr. Cooper, one of the best known physicians of middle Georgia, is on the verge of insanity over the death of his daughter, Mrs. Chapman, of Barnett. The lady has been long ill, and her father went to nurse her. This he did for several days and nights, until worn down, when by mistake he administered to her morphine instead of quinine, causing the lady's death.

An Employment Agent in Trouble.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 23.—An employment agent named Frank Gross was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with the heinous crime of procuring young girls for houses of prostitution. According to the police, Gross has been in the business for a long time, but not until now have they been able to secure evidence of his guilt.

Murdered and Robbed.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Feb. 23.—The body of Valentine Gulcher was found yesterday in a pasture near the Union Pacific shops. His head was crushed, and four bullet holes were found in his body. Gulcher was a well-to-do man. No money was found on his person.

INDICATIONS—"For Kentucky: Threatening weather and rain, followed in western portions by fair weather; slight changes in temperature."

The Republican State Central Committee will meet to-morrow in Louisville to fix the time and place of their next State convention.

The constitutional limit of the present session of the Legislature will expire next Monday, but the Solons have hardly got down to business. There will be an extension.

The first issue of the Vanceburg Times, J. S. Mavity, editor, is a bright and newsy paper. It is independent in politics and bids fair to prosper. Mr. Mavity has been in the harness before and will give the Vanceburg and Lewis County people a good paper.

DAVID BENNETT HILL, Governor of New York, would not decline the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. But from present indications he will not be given a chance to do so this year. Still, next to Cleveland, he is the strongest man the Democrats could nominate.

SOME Republicans are inclined to make light of the growing Democratic sentiment in the Northwest, but a change of over seven thousand votes in four years in a single Congressional district is not to be laughed at. The Republicans want to keep a close watch on Iowa, Minnesota and Michigan.

RECENTLY a circular was sent to the editors of country newspapers throughout Minnesota, and an exchange says the replies indicate that the Republicans of that State are very strongly in favor of a radical reduction of the tariff; that they are fully persuaded that the agricultural interests of the country demand some such reduction. Republican statesmen who are clamoring for protection should make a note of this.

THE violators of the local option law at Carlisle are again in trouble. The temperance people have had a private detective on the lookout for some time, and the liquor men were surprised a few days ago by the issue of warrants against the following: James Cain, two cases; R. M. Park, one case; Thomas Hackett, three cases; Tice Hall, colored, bartender for R. M. Kirk, six cases; Dr. P. Lindsay, five cases; Lycurgus Robinson, one case; John Scully, two cases. Russell Scott, the main witness, has been hired to skip the country, it is said, and the case against James Cain was dismissed.

In another column will be found a card showing the promptitude with which the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society of New York pays its death losses. This society has been working in our State but two and a half years, during which time over four million dollars of insurance has been written among our best and most thoughtful citizens. Among its policy-holders in our State we notice the well-known names of Hon. Henry Watterson, of the Courier-Journal; R. M. Kelley, of Louisville Commercial; C. E. Sears, of Louisville Post; J. M. Fetter, Pres. of Ky. National Bank; H. C. Truman, Cashier of same bank; John E. Green, Pres. Second National Bank; Pierre Viglini, Pres. of German National Bank; H. C. Wallbeck, Cashier of same; J. T. Moore, Pres. of Falls City National Bank; Wm. Tillman, Cashier of same bank; Clinton McCarthy, Manager Louisville Clearing House; John H. Leathers, Cashier Louisville Banking Co.; H. V. Loving, Pres. Louisville Safety Deposit and Vault Co.; J. H. Huber, Cashier Peoples National Bank, all of Louisville; and E. L. Samuels, Cashier Branch Bank, Frankfort; J. B. Northcott, Cashier Deposit Bank, Paris; J. J. McClintock, Teller Agricultural Bank, Paris; H. Jones, Jr., of Farmers National Bank, Mt. Sterling; J. S. Withers, National Bank, Cynthia; J. L. Sanford, Cashier Farmer's & Traders, Covington; W. W. Bean, Cashier German National New York; Hon. J. W. Bryan, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky.

Insurance reports show the assets of this Society to be larger in proportion to its liability than any other regular life insurance company. Its plan of insurance is radically different from that offered by other old line companies—although it furnishes insurance upon all approved plans—and judging by its immense volume of business—its per cent. of gain being greater than any other company's during the last four years—we opine that it will meet with corresponding success among our enterprising readers, to whom it is now being presented.

LAW-MAKERS AT FRANKFORT.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the Proceedings of the Legislature—Notes.

A bill is pending to limit the hours of labor, making the maximum ten hours in all manufacturing or productive industries, workshops or buildings in which labor is employed by the day or month to fabricate goods, wares, utensils, etc. The bill does not apply to farm laborers or domestic servants.

One of the most important bills yet introduced is a measure to prevent the employment of children under fourteen years of age. It provides that hereafter no minor shall be admitted as a worker under the age of fourteen years, within any workshop, factory or mine. If any owner or employer shall engage such person, for each offense he shall pay a penalty of $100.

Representative Reed introduced a bill fixing the salary of Commonwealth's Attorneys at $2,000 a year and taking from them the fees and other perquisites of office. The salary is to be payable monthly.

Representative Charlton has offered a bill to amend chapter 112 (Weights and Measures) of the General Statutes. It provides that section 7 be amended by striking out after the words "stove coal" the words "seventy-six pounds," and inserting in place thereof the words "eighty pounds," and by adding the following sentence to the paragraph concerning stove coal: "Twenty-five bushels or 2,000 pounds of stove coal shall be known as a ton or load of coal."

Mr. Johnson introduced a bill to authorize Fayette County, outside of Lexington, to subscribe $50,000 to the stock of the Kentucky Union Railroad.

Mr. Worthington, from the Committee on General Statutes, reported a bill regulating the fees of jailers, and making certain cities, Louisville, for instance, pay jailers' fees where the city gets the benefit of fines and forfeitures.

Up to the 18th instant there had been 922 bills introduced in the House. Of this number 532 are yet in the hands of the House Committees. One hundred and ninety-four are in the Senate not yet acted on and the remaining 196 have been passed or killed. In the Senate 319 bills had been offered, of which number 152 are in the House for concurrence, while the remaining 167 stand about one-third disposed of and two-thirds in committee.

The House has passed a resolution extending the session until the 17th of March, the vote standing 70 to 12. Representative Gooding is one of the dozen who voted against extending the session. One of the most forcible arguments in favor of the resolution was made by General Fry, a Republican. He said the people were responsible for prolonged business. They persist in sending in bills and measures, and the members would stultify themselves if they paid no attention to this and voted to go home after the lapse of two months.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Forman gave the young folks a nice entertainment last Wednesday evening.

Miss Mary Marshall is confined to her home on account of a severe indisposition.

Mr. George Humphreys and party are expected at home from California this week, by way of New Orleans.

Mr. Thomas Parry returns to his home in Kansas City this week, and will visit at Washington, Ind., on his way.

Mrs. John Lee, of near Rectoryville, has been visiting relatives here for a few days. There was a large attendance at the sale of Mr. Jacob Slack, near here, and property brought good prices.

Mr. Saunders, of Newark, Ohio, an old resident of this place and also of your city, was here last week looking after that big fortune in Texas. It appears that the man's name was Saunders, and not Bean, that the latter was an assumed name. The old gentleman seems to think that the man was his brother who left Mayville a good many years ago and went to Texas. He says he will prosecute his claim at once.

SAND HILL ECHINGS. Dr. G. W. Martin is seriously ill at his residence near here. Small hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Marital relations are anything but pleasant in the hills back of here. Two couples have parted recently, and yet more to follow.

It is rumored that a band of regulators will be organized here soon to look after some parties in this vicinity. We are informed that notice has been served on an old man—old enough to know better—and a young married woman, who are disgracing the neighborhood by their conduct, to live more in conformity to law, or they will receive a visit in the near future and get a dose that they will not soon forget.

Jacob Mower, an old and respected citizen of this precinct, died at his residence near here on Saturday last and was buried on the Sunday following in the cemetery on Cabin Creek. His funeral was largely attended. The early part of Mr. Mower's life was spent in Mayville where he worked at his trade of mason. His reminiscences of that place were interesting. Mr. Mower when a young man was a splendid specimen of physical manhood and he retained both his physical and mental powers to a remarkable degree until within a few months of his death. He leaves a widow and large grown family to mourn his loss.

Wm. Downing will remove to Lexington in the near future, when he will engage in the culture of tobacco.

Constable Blount accompanied the U. S. Marshal to Louisville on Saturday last as guard to Wesley Osborne and Lum Hughes recently arrested for violating the U. S. laws in regard to selling liquor.

Two Hundred Plows to Be Sold. Owens & Barkley will sell single and double shovels, turning and hillside plows very, very low. Call and see before purchasing elsewhere.

MEN ARE GROWING TALLER.

Influences Which Tend to Elongation of the Masculine Spinal Column.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, finds time while conducting an extensive business to collect information on a great variety of subjects. He has lately ascertained, by means of circulars addressed to leading tailors, the makers of ready made clothing, and the manufacturers of underclothes, that the men of this country are growing taller, decade by decade. He thinks that we shall eventually become a nation of giants. As yet he has elaborated no theory to account for this steady increase in height. Some physiologists, however, have suggested that it is due to the large consumption of meat in this country. They state that people who, like the Chinese and Hindoos, subsist almost entirely on grain and fruit are invariably short in stature, while flesh consumers, like the North American Indians, are generally quite tall.

It is likely that diet may have something to do in influencing the height that men attain. But it is obvious that there are other causes that exert a much greater influence. There are a great many inducements held out in this country for men to become tall. Nearly every boy desires to gain admission to the military or naval academy, and each learns as soon as he can read that it is necessary to reach a certain standard of height in order to be eligible. Men must also stand a certain number of feet and inches in their stockings before they can attain positions on the police force in most cities. As premiums are offered for becoming tall, it is by no means wonderful that men and boys should seek to add to their stature by taking thought or taking anything that will produce the desired result.

The introduction of the three story and mansard roof bonnet, with a roost for birds or a vase of flowers on the ridge-pole, has been a most important agent in elongating the spinal column of men. The man who invests $3 in tickets for the purpose of taking his best girl to the theatre finds that he can see nothing on the stage unless he happens to be very tall. In the case of spectacular productions this is especially aggravating. As a consequence men who attend theatres and operas make use of every means that will enable them to become tall. In some fashionable churches the male worshiper of medium height has no opportunity to see the minister or the pretty soprano singer. The Tower of Babel bonnets, surmounted by "fowls of the air" and "lilies of the field," entirely obstruct his view.

The street car also exerts great influence in causing men to become tall. They generally give the seats to the women, and are obliged to stand during the entire trip. As soon as a boy is 12 years old, his endeavors to reach the strap attached to the top rail commence. He perseveres in his attempt until he succeeds in accomplishing the difficult feat. He learns to stretch his body out in the same way that an earth worm does in order to reach a certain place. After he has availed himself of all his powers of self elongation, agencies that are not voluntary are brought to work on his body. Side pressure is made to bear on it as it is on a bar of iron that is to be drawn out into wire. It also receives numerous blows every time the car wheels pass over an obstruction, and these produce the same effect on his body that the blows of a hammer do on a piece of soft iron.—Chicago Times.

An Unusual Sight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The senate presented a very unusual sight to-day, nearly every senator occupying his place and listening with wrapt attention while Senator Ingalls read from the desk the farewell address of President Washington. The galleries were crowded, and such silence prevailed that every word, impressively delivered by the presiding officer, could be distinctly heard. The opening prayer had contained patriotic allusions appropriate to the day, and upon its conclusion Senator Hoar moved the suspension of the ordinary course of proceedings, and the reading of the farewell address by the presiding officer proceeded. The reading was concluded at 1 o'clock, and the senate adjourned.

The Cash is Coming.

MT. VERNON, Ill., Feb. 23.—The relief committee is hourly receiving contributions for the cyclone sufferers. About $2,000 in cash and a quantity of provisions had arrived at headquarters last night. A. C. Webb has been appointed quartermaster. The disbursements are slow to apply to the committee, or in this thriving community all have been industrious, and only dire necessity compels them to speak of their wants. Evansville, Ind., gives $3,500 and medical attention. It has been decided to hold union burial services in the supreme court room at 10 o'clock next Monday in memory of those who lost their lives in the terrible cyclone.

Generally Observed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The one hundredth and fifty-sixth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, a holiday by law, was very generally observed here. All executive departments were closed, courts adjourned and business was generally suspended. The weather was delightful and spring-like, and the streets were all day crowded with people.

An Expensive Dog Bite.

LEBANON, O., Feb. 23.—Fanniss Hutt was given a verdict for $107.50 in her suit to recover $2,000 damages against Theodore McCandless and wife for injuries resulting from being bitten in the right wrist by a ferocious dog in September last. Miss Hutt had just commenced her duties as a hired girl in the family on the morning the dog made the attack upon her.

Kentucky Murderer Captured.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 23.—Charles Bose, the colored man who shot and seriously wounded his mother, and at the same time shot and instantly killed a colored man named Charles Somers, in Sharpsburg, about two months ago, has been brought to this place and lodged in jail. Bose's crime is looked upon as a cold-blooded murder.

Victory for the Law and Order League.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 23.—The city council last night voted to abolish the office of captain of police, held by Vandever, and removed Lawler as superintendent. Alex. Knight was elected to the vacancy. This is a rebuke to the policy that has prevailed here as to gambling and saloons, and is the first victory of the law and order league.

Please convey to the officers of your society my thanks for the prompt and satisfactory manner in which these policies were paid, and accept for yourself my grateful appreciation of your especial kindness. MENTION was made a few days ago of the arrest of Charles Bowles, colored, by Marshal Heflin, on the charge of killing Charles Somers at Sharpburg. The accused has since been lodged in jail at Owingsville. The people who are acquainted with the particulars look upon the crime as a cold-blooded murder. Bowles is known to have told several different stories while here about the killing.

AT Sugar Tree Run Church, in Fleming County, last Sunday night, Daniel Humphreys cut Sam McRoberts, seriously wounding him. A special says the attack was unprovoked and was probably intended for another person. A reward of $50 is offered for his arrest. Humphreys is eighteen years old, stoop-shouldered, light complexioned, will weigh one hundred and thirty-five or one hundred and forty pounds. McRoberts' injuries will likely terminate fatally.

Far From Being Crazy.

John Harmon, an aged and wealthy land owner and money lender of Fleming County, was tried before a jury on a writ de lunatico inquiring a few days ago, for the purpose of having a trustee appointed to manage his interests. The inquiry was made at the request of three sons-in-law. The old man can neither read nor write. On the witness stand he could not tell the names of his children, but a thing he did know was how to get big interest and get on every loan a mortgage and gilt-edged note. Notwithstanding his illiteracy, he could, it is said, pick out any given note from a bundle of similar papers, give the principal, date and amount of payments.

A special says the evidence showed that he had made in the last three years 12 1/2 per cent. annually on his capital, and this made him, in the jury's opinion, entirely capable of managing his own affairs, the only danger to be apprehended from his being at large lying in the fact that the borrowing class is liable to be ground to pieces.

Interesting Question at Law.

A special from Owingsville says: "James O. Atchison, through his attorney, W. S. Gudgell, has filed suit in the Bath Circuit Court, contesting the will of his brother, Jesse Atchison, deceased. This is an interesting and important suit—interesting in that it involves a question new to the courts of Kentucky, and important because the estate in question is valued at $75,000, $50,000 of which is in cash.

"The deceased Mr. Atchison had no children of his own, but adopted and raised a daughter. This daughter married, and died, leaving an heir. To this heir Mr. Atchison willed the bulk of his property. The question is as to whether the child of an adopted child can inherit or not. This question has never been passed upon by the Court of Appeals of this State. There are a great many other heirs who may come in as claimants, and the case will be good picking for the lawyers."

Thirty Days and $100 Fine.

John Wesley Osborne and Christopher Columbus Hughes, of Cottageville, Lewis County, pleaded guilty in the United States Court at Louisville to violating the internal revenue laws. Their penalty was fixed at a fine of $100 and imprisonment for thirty days. Mention was made some days ago of their arrest by Deputy United States Marshall Warnock.

Josh Barton, of Millersburg, sold 47 high-bred trotters last Saturday for $13,000 an average of nearly $300.

At Josh Barton's sale of high-bred trotters at Millersburg last Saturday, D. B. Mitchell, of Helena, bought a fine filly by Strathmore for $1,925.

In the past three months over 220,000 sacks of potatoes have been imported from Europe. The crop in this country was short last season, and we have to fall back on Europe for our supply. It would be a good idea for our farmers to grow potatoes this year.

A Todd County, Kentucky, farmer, who has given ensilage a fair trial, writes the Home Journal: "I am still feeding ensilage and regard it as one of the best of winter feeds, as it keeps cattle in such fine condition. I don't see how I could winter my herd without it."

The potatoes that are being imported to this country come mainly from Glasgow, Hamburg and Rotterdam. They cost from 10 to 15 cents a bushel abroad, and the duty is 15 cents a bushel. In the Chicago market they are now bringing 90 cents, and the price will probably advance.

If the coming season proves favorable, there is great danger of the tobacco market being glutted and then down will go the prices again. The news from Central Kentucky indicates that a larger crop than ever will be planted. The growers should not be carried away by the present high prices.

Auctioneer G. C. Goggin reports the following sale of property for Jacob Slack on the 21st of this month: 46 hogs, $217.10; 3 sows, $37.50; 1 cow, $30; 1 cow, $16.25; 1 heifer, $25.25; 1 heifer, $36; 2 yearling steers, $50; 1 heifer, $20; 1 heifer, $48.50; 3 heifers, $75.75; 2 small calves, $17; 1 old mule, $75.75; 1 old mare, $68.50; 1 old mare, $94.50; 1 horse, $138.50; 1 horse, $170.

ABOUT sixty feet of the rear wall inclosing the jail yard toppled over this morning. Judge Coons' attention was called to its condition some months ago but he had no authority to order any repairs and declined to act. The wall was about twenty feet high and was made of stone.
